The Lebanese Emigration Research Center (LERC) at the Faculty of Law and Political Science (FLPS), Notre Dame University-Louaize (NDU), hosted on February 4th, 2016 Marwa Ahmad who is an old Notre Dame University student (promo 2009) pursuing her Master's degree in Japan at Graduate School of Global Studies: Doshisha University. Ms. Ahmad was eager to discuss with LERC Director, Dr. Guita Hourani his doctoral research.

The research proposal that she is currently working on the Impact of the Syrian Refugees in Lebanon. Dr. Hourani and Ms. Haddad helped her in her research by giving her articles and books that are related to her research. Moreover, they also helped her by introducing her to the topic since LERC was one of the research centers in Lebanon that did field research on the Syrian Refugees in Lebanon. The reason she turned to LERC is because she wants her study to include all the necessary information for her thesis.

On 15th of March 2016, Ms, Ahmad revisited LERC again with her professor Hisae NAKANISHI at the graduate school of Global Studies: Doshisha University, who is going to assist her in her thesis.
